File Navigator is a software tool which enables individuals to manage the contents of their hard drives in a highly efficient manner. This utility is portable, meaning it does not require installation. As a consequence, it is not going to affect in any way whatsoever the Windows registry and Start menu/screen, and upon its removal, there will be no leftover files. Aside from that, if you drop the program files to a portable storage unit, such as a USB flash drive, you can use File Navigator on any computer you have access to, by simply clicking the executable. The interface is quite intuitive and therefore, even people without experience in all things pertaining to computers can use it with ease. It is comprised of two side-by-side panels in which to view the contents of the HDD, a menu bar and a few shortcut buttons. Files and folders are displayed as lists, along with their extension. Further information regarding them can be viewed in a small pane, including size (expressed in bytes), and last modified date and time. There are many keyboard shortcuts you can use, so as to perform actions even faster, and they are displayed in the main window, as buttons. For example, there is "F4" for editing, "F5" for copying, and "F7" for making new directories. It is possible to access a search tool, view system information and commands history, view certain files highlighted, change all the colors used throughout the application and show or hide certain panels. To conclude, File Navigator is an efficient piece of software when it comes to managing your files and directories, or just browsing the contents of your hard drive faster.
