Q: `Html.BeginForm` can't find controls from child assemblies I'm working on a legacy project where there are many third party controls (obviously some that weren't made with the MVC framework in mind). One third party control, when rendered, does not render its controls. I'm trying to clean this up by moving the controls into the main application (not before I've rendered the page first). The code that is being rendered in the child control looks like this: `@{ Layout = "~/_Layout.cshtml"; } @Html.SomeControl() @Html.SomeOtherControl()` And the `Html.BeginForm()` in the main application looks like this: `@Html.BeginForm("", "", FormMethod.Post) { @Html.RenderPartial("Main", Model); }` I can't see anything in the main application to indicate why the child controls are not being rendered.
